

Name: _____

Date: _____

A Vampire Bit My Neck Last Night

Read this poem and follow the instructions on the back

A vampire bit my neck last night.
And, though it sounds insane,
some zombies chased me down the street and tried to eat my brain.

A mummy shambled after me.
Godzilla stomped my face.
I nearly got abducted by an alien from space.

When Frankenstein attacked me
I escaped, but then almost got tackled by a skeleton, a werewolf, and a ghost.

A slimy blob engulfed me.
Then I woke up with a scream.
I've never been so overjoyed to wake up from a dream.

Last night I learned a lesson;
if you want to keep your head,
don't watch a scary movie right before you go to bed.

— Kenn Nesbitt

A Vampire Bit My Neck Last Night

Imagine you meet one of the monsters from the poem.
What happens next?

Write a story where the monsters from the poem are friendly.
What do you do together?

Write about what the speaker does instead of watching a scary movie before bed. What kind of dream do they have?