Goldfish Moving Day

Help the Goldfish Move From the Bowl to His New Aquarium

My goldfish had a tiny bowl.
He needed one much bigger
to be a truly happy soul and swim with vim and vigor.

I visited the pet shop where
I bought a new aquarium.
I thought I'd pour his bowl in there.
He asked if I could carry him.

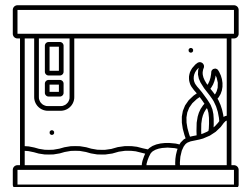

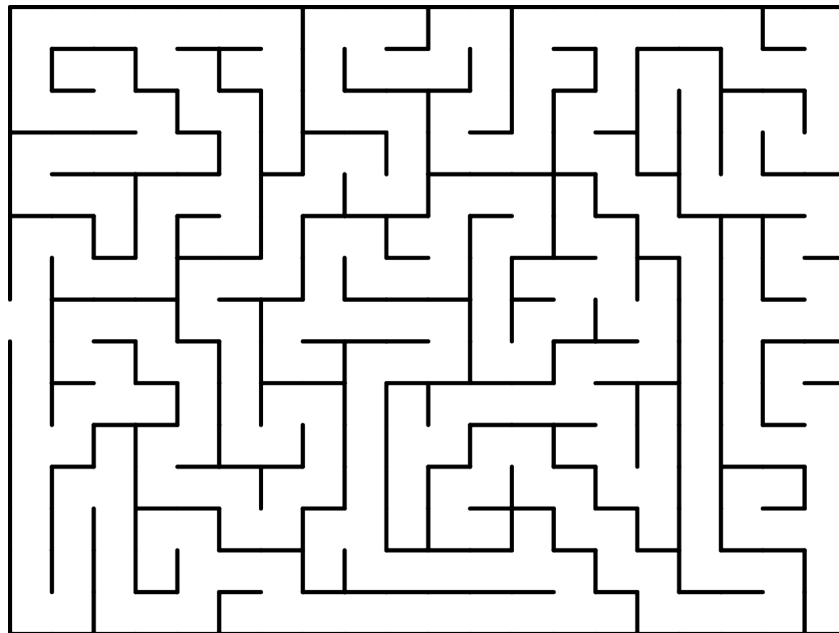

I said, "Hey, wait! So you can speak?
I made that birthday wish!
I blew the candles out last week
to get a talking fish!"

He said, "That's right. Yes, I can speak.
It's you I have to thank for wishing I could talk last week.
Now take me to my tank!"

I did exactly as he said
and picked him up to carry him.
He gasped for air and soon was dead,
and now I have to bury him.

So, on your birthday I suggest that when you make your wishes, it's obviously not the best to ask for talking fishes.
