

Name: _____

Date: _____

It's a Farmer's Job to Farm

1. Read the poem
2. In the list below, write what each person's job would be
3. If the job is real, circle it. If it is not real, draw a line through it

It's a farmer's job to farm, and it's a teacher's job to teach.
It's a dancer's job to dance, and it's a preacher's job to preach.

But do butlers have to butle, and do barbers have to barb?
Does a butcher have to butch, and does a harbor have to harb?

Does a grocer have to groce,
and does a doctor have to doct?
Is a scholar's job to schol,
and is a proctor's job to proct?

Does a dollar have to doll and does the thunder always thund?
If you know, then you're a wonder,
and your job must be to wond.

— Kenn Nesbitt

Farmer
Doctor
Actor
Driver
Singer
Tailor
Baker
Potter
Lawyer
Master

Farm ~~Doct~~

