

Warm or Storm?

Read this poem and answer the questions on the back

I think I'll stay inside today.
In here, it's nice and warm.
Outside, I'm told it's frozen.
There's a frigid winter storm.

I heard that there's a blizzard
with a ton of ice and snow.
Thermometers are saying that it's twenty-five below.

That's way too cold to snowboard,
or to ski, or skate, or sled.
The news said, "Stay inside today
and bundle up in bed."

I could have gone outside to see how chilly it would get.
But I just looked online and read it on the Winternet.

— Kenn Nesbitt

NAME: _____

DATE: _____

READING RESPONSE

POEM: _____

AUTHOR: _____

I GIVE THIS POEM:

DRAW YOUR FAVORITE WINTER ACTIVITY

MY FAVORITE PART OF THE POEM WAS: _____

---

---