While Walking Down the Street Today

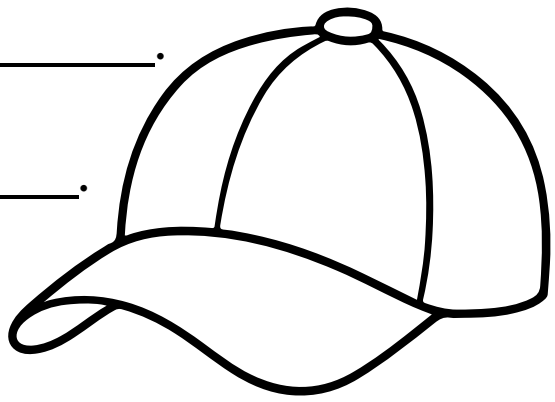

Read this poem and fill in the blanks
with the rhymes from the list on the right

While walking down the street today
my hat blew off and flew _____.
I chased it down the avenue
but couldn't catch it. On it _____.
I chased that hat across a bridge,
then up along a rocky _____,
then through a park and past a school,
and all around a swimming _____,
beside a creek, and up a hill,
and on and on and on _____...
it suddenly came to a stop!
It fell and landed right on
of someone. It was my friend Jim.
He smiled at me. I smiled at _____.
It felt so good to see his smile.
We stayed and chatted for a _____.
We had so many things to say.
I'm glad my hat blew off _____.
